Information Session

The Indiana University-Purdue University (IUPUI) Post-Baccalaureate Research Program (IPREP) prepares recent college graduates, who are students from underrepresented minority or disadvantaged populations, for admission to PhD programs in the biomedical and behavioral sciences. We are so excited for the success of our fellows, and many of them have gone on to prestigious programs at schools such as Univ. of Chicago, Oregon Health & Science Univ., Univ. of Texas Southwestern, Georgia Tech., and our own IUPUI/Indiana University School of Medicine programs.
